

I just can't believe that the government has nothing better to do than try and limit a service so many people pay for. Its NOT the governments job to squash competition in a free enterprise system. XM radio traffic and weather is awesome when traveling if this is limited what's next.